

MANY THOUSAND VETERANS THERE

Blue and the Gray Are Talking the War over Now on Famous Battlefield.

SWAPPING STORIES

Management of Celebration
Prepares Tents for Many Thousand More.

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 30.—Twenty-five thousand veterans in Blue and Gray, the biggest army of its kind that has been gathered together in fifty years, walked today on the field of Gettysburg to the call of reveille and the warlike rattle of pots and pans in a score of mess tents. Veterans who sat about camp fires until late at night were up long before the sun climbed over the hills of the Blue Ridge. Before the electric lights of this modern camp are turned out to make for the sun the veterans were singing the songs of war time and wide streets of the tented city echoed with the ki-yi's of the Johnny Reb and the hoarse yells of his Yankee brother of the North. The regular army men in charge of the camp expected 15,000 veterans to come into Gettysburg today and by tonight they will be prepared to tent and mess more than 40,000 men without hitch or delay. There was no set program today and the veterans were left free to look up all friends and all enemies, swap stories of 1863 and enjoy themselves in any way they saw fit. Just as soon as the rations of bacon and eggs and coffee, fruit in season, fresh bread and butter were disposed of in the way all good soldiers dispose of them, the real inspection of the battlefield and the retelling of the story of Gettysburg began with all the pointed criticism that the private soldier knows so well how to make.

"I ain't seen a Reb yet who didn't charge Round Top and take it all by himself," said a lanky southerner as he wandered into quarters of the Pennsylvania contingent.

"No; and I ain't seen a Yank who didn't break up Pickett's charge by his own self," said a smiling Pennsylvanian as they shook hands.

The only set event today was the joint reception by the survivors of General Buford's cavalry and the southerners of General Wheeler's cavalry to the citizens of Gettysburg. It was Buford who discovered the Confederates at Gettysburg on the morning of July 1 fifty years ago and the pickets who first saw the Scouts of Lee swinging up the Chambersburg pike and fired the first shot of the greatest battle of the Civil war. It was Buford who stubbornly fought the advance of General Heath's division of the Third Confederate Corps on the July morning until General Reynolds arrived and took command and Wheeler's men helped to make the joint affair a warm one. Relatives of General Meade, General Longstreet, General Pickett and General Hill arrived today and were given quarters in the town.

Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, chairman of the Pennsylvania commission, announced that thirty-five governors had accepted invitations to be present some time during the week. Brigadier General Hunter Liggett assumed command of the veteran camp today and Major Normoyle, of the quartermaster's court, who has been working pretty nearly twenty-three hours each day for the last two weeks, gave up the reins of office. General Liggett appointed as his adjutants Lieutenant Simon B. Buckner, son of the Confederate general.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—President Wilson will go by train to Gettysburg instead of by motor as originally planned. He has prepared his speech, which will be brief and immediately after its delivery he plans to go to Cornish, N. H., to spend Saturday and Sunday with his family, returning to Washington the following Monday.

CASE GOES TO JURY.

The suit arises from the sale of alleged defective pipe and the trial has been on in the circuit court since the first part of June.

MYSTERIOUS BULLET HITS THOMAS JORDAN

In the Left Arm as He is Walking on Main Street
Pavement.

Thomas A. Jordan was mysteriously shot in the left arm shortly after 12 o'clock noon Monday as he was walking west on the southside pavement of Main street near Baker's clothing store. In the company were John W. Brown, a Socialist speaker, E. H. Kintzer and another man whose identity has not been learned by the Telegram.

The bullet entered the back of the arm just below the elbow and came out at the front just above the wrist. The bone was said to be shattered. Jordan was taken to a hospital.

Just where the bullet came from is not known. It appeared to have come from a westerly direction and as it is what is called a Maxim silencer, there was no noise from firing.

The police are making a thorough investigation of the case but so far they have not been able to identify the one who fired the shot.

MAN STRUCK

By a Street Car as He Starts
Across Track But Not Badly Injured.

Richard Huffman, an aged Water street truckster, was hit by a Bridgeport street car about 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in front of the store of the Palace Furniture and Piano Company on West Main street but not seriously injured. The aged man is very deaf. He was almost across the track but he turned and walked down and off the track and then started across again. The car was running slowly when it struck him and it did not move more than five feet after that until it came to a standstill. Fortunately the man rolled off the track when struck. A gash over the left eye seems to be his main injury.

WEBSTER SPRINGS, June 30.—State Senator Ben A. Smith on trial charged with accepting a bribe in connection with the United States senatorial campaign, may not know the jury's verdict until tomorrow. The greater part of this morning was taken up with the preparation and re-framing of instructions to the jury, the state asking Judge O'Brien to give ten instructions and the defense asking for fifty-one. Prosecutor Townsend said today that if the jury could not agree on a verdict, Smith would be retried immediately, otherwise the state would probably call the case of Delegate Rath Duff.

WITH THEIR WINDOW SMASHING, PROPERTY DESTROYING, HUNGER STRIKING TACTICS SUFFRAGETS BRING GRAY HAIRS TO ASQUITH

Feeding an imprisoned militant suffraget. (From sketch in the militants' official organ.)
The Asquith government, which has settled many difficult foreign and domestic problems with ease during its lease of power, frankly does not know how to treat the militant suffragets. If it imprisons them for their acts of violence, they go on a hunger strike. The government must either let them starve to death or release them. It dares not let them starve, and public sentiment would not stand for such a thing. Forcible feeding of the imprisoned militants has not worked out with much success. The accompanying sketch shows how the suffragets have sometimes been compelled to take nourishment, whether they wished to or not.
